The boys wanted Minecraft pine tree derby cars for Cub Scouts, which worked perfectly. I put together a rough pattern or skin for the characters they wanted from Minecraft (Creeper and Steve), we printed them out on regular sheets of white paper. Cut them down to size, folded them to match the blocks of wood that came with derby kits and then glued to the tree. We finished the skin with the coat Mod Podge craft glue. Below are samples of the templates we used. They are far from perfect, but they worked for us!
